Event Solutions

Plug-and-Play

The event tank is a mobile tank with a integrated cooling system and air compressor. This way you have a fully equipped "plug and play" mobile beer system that you can use at any place, to any bar on your event.

Event Tanks

Supplying enough cold and fresh beer at an event can be a struggle. Kegs constantly have to be switched out, requiring a substantial work force, and resulting in a loss of beer. Even more frustrating is that kegs are vulnerable to temperature changes, affecting the quality of the beer. Duotank event tanks are the solution to all of these problems.

The event tanks of Duotank are fully stand alone operating units. Because they are fitted with a cooler and compressor, the event tanks are able to be used at any location as long as power is supplied. This allows the user to have a constant flow of cold and perfectly fresh draft beer throughout the event.

Duotank event tanks are fitted with a strong stainless steel frame which will protect the tank and the other components against damage. The heavy duty wheels that are fitted on the frame allow the tank to be moved around easily. For placement on rough surfaces, the frame is designed with special openings to allow forklifts to easily pick up the tank. This means the tank can be moved around and placed at almost any location. So, no matter what type of event the user is running: the beer supply will be in an optimal condition.
